

Brown-Forman Corporation Honored

CONGRESSWOMAN ANN NORTHUP KEYNOTES ANNUAL BUILDING BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Kentucky Congresswoman Anne M. Northup was the guest speaker and Brown-Forman Corporation was the honored donor at 10th Annual Building Bridges Luncheon held at The Morton Center.

In her address, Rep. Northup said, "Every child goes to bed at night dreaming of becoming something important," and that alcohol and drug abuse, either by that child or by a parent, can have a devastating effect on those dreams. She went on to praise The Morton Center for the important work it continues to do reshaping the lives of young people and their families.

Brown-Forman Corporation was this year's honored donor. Brown-Forman has been a generous and consistent supporter of The Morton Center throughout the center's existence. Rusty Chevront, Jr. accepted the award on behalf of the corporation, saying that Brown-Forman was proud to have contributed to the support of such an important organization.

In his closing remarks, John P. Walsh, Chief Executive Officer of The Morton Center, thanked those present for their generosity and hinted at event greater things to come in the center's growth. He also thanked and introduced Susan Seiller of Jack Fry's

United State Congresswoman Anne M. Northup, shown above with Morton Center CEO, John P. Walsh, was the main speaker at the 10th Annual Building Bridges Luncheon. Brown-Forman Corporation was honored for its contributions to the Center.

Restaurant who produced and donated an amazing lunch.

The Building Bridges Luncheon is held annually to thank those donors who have given significant financial support to The Morton Center over the past year.

(From left) John Walsh, CEO, The Morton Center; Rusty Chevront of Brown-Forman Corporation; and Charles Boden, President, The Morton Center Board of Directors. Brown-Forman was honored for its contributions to The Morton Center.

A full house of friends and supporters filled The Morton Center's Multipurpose Room for this year's luncheon. The meal was prepared by Susan Seiller and her team from Jack Fry's.

Brenda J. Smith and Jimmy Dan Connor enjoyed the pre-luncheon reception. Ms. Smith is a vice-president/investment advisor in the Wealth Management Division of Stock Yards Bank. Mr. Connor is a member of The Morton Center's Board of Directors and an owner of BB&T/Old Colony Insurance.

